

Scholarship Announcement:
Master of Public Health (MPH)
International Program at Khon Kaen University, Thailand

Community Partners International (CPI) is partnering with the Khon Kaen University (KKU)'s Faculty of Public Health (FPH) in Thailand to offer 10 tuition fee scholarships for the one-and-a-half to two-year Master of Public Health (MPH) International Program.

The scholarships will be awarded to successful candidates working with community organizations that provide health and humanitarian services to vulnerable populations from Myanmar.

This special MPH International Program will require three months of on-campus study at KKU (July 1 to September 30, 2024). The rest of the course (assignments, research, and field workshops, etc.) can be conducted at candidates' home/work locations. If candidates opt to remain on campus throughout the special program, KKU will support their visa application process.

CPI will provide 10 full or partial tuition fee scholarships for the MPH International Program. Successful candidates will need to cover their own travel, visa, accommodation, and other expenses during the study period at KKU.

To apply for the scholarship, please complete/provide the following forms/documents:

1. Cover letter
2. Application form
3. Two references, one academic and one professional, (e.g., a teacher, advisor, work supervisor)
4. Bachelor degree certificate and scanned copies of transcripts and return them by April 18, 2024, to Ms. Su Khine Latt at scholarships@cpintl.org

If you have questions, please contact Ms. Su Khine Latt at scholarships@cpintl.org

Please do not send applications directly to Khon Kaen University.

CPI and KKU will interview the applicants and finalize the candidate selection together. Successful candidates must enroll separately with KKU Graduate School after receiving confirmation of their scholarship award from CPI.

Candidates will be informed of the results of the scholarship selection process on May 10, 2024.

About Community Partners International

Community Partners International (CPI) is a U.S. international nonprofit organization that empowers vulnerable communities in Asia to meet their essential health, humanitarian, and development needs. Founded in 1998, the organization has grown to serve more than one million people each year. CPI focuses on communities affected by conflict, violence, and displacement, in remote and hard-to-reach contexts, and marginalized through poverty and exclusion.

About the Faculty of Public Health at Khon Kaen University

The Faculty of Public Health at Khon Kaen University (FPH KKU) was founded in 1978. The vision of the FPH KKU is “to be one of the top three Public Health institutions in ASEAN for both research and education”. FPH KKU has longstanding partnership with the Government of Thailand and local health organizations that provide essential healthcare services to ethnic minority and displaced populations on the Thailand-Myanmar (Burma) border. FPH KKU has already enrolled several local organization members of staff who have obtained Health Facility Management certificates and Master of Public Health degrees to enhance their public health management and research skills.
